The Journey

My family loves food. That's why our slogan is "Walker's like to eat". But we didn't just wake up one day and say, "WE LOVE FOOD!"

No, it is a trait passed down by many of the Walker family members. My grandma, for example is German. And she is an amazing cook. When my family travels to Idaho to visit her and my grandpa, she'll stuff us full! Then on top of a snack, appetizer AND a meal, she'll feed us a full plate of desert. So you can see where my dad gets his spectacular cooking skills.

It all started at the original pancake house, where my dad spent his young teenage days working as a busser. But maybe I should go a little farther back down this timeline. My dad was born in Italy, basically the food capital of the world! He's lived in Turkey, Germany, Greece and Italy. All these places have some background for creating great passionate recipes. Now let's fast forward. Besides working at the Original Pancake House, he worked thirteen years for Black Angus, then continued advancing his restaurant career working a Cucina Cucina. Ready to venture out on his own, he bought Mama Stortini's then in its original location in University Place. A few years later, an opportunity arose to move Mama Stortini's to a more advantageous and desirable location in the Puyallup Valley. Mama Stortini's flourished in the valley with my dad's capabilities in running a business. But speed bumps and crossroads happen and my dad left Mama Stortini's. With the encouragement of my family, my mom and God, My dad resiliently poured every bit of his knowledge and expertise of the restaurant business (literally donning a hard hat) into the construction the baking and the sautéing of what is the The Flying Tomato! The best pizza and pasta you'll find!

After winning awards from King 5's "Best of Western Washington" three years in a row (first year: Best New Restaurant, Second Year: Best Italian and Third Year: Placed Top 5 Italian) my dad was in tears and really credited his whole team. My dad once said, "Kayla, when people walk through the doors of The flying Tomato, They're really walking in to my heart, soul and passion for food." So then I told him, "The next time you serve someone a plate of lasagna or Godfather Pizza, they're going to remember your life story and how much love it took to get that food on their plate."
